

Powered by Clickability

Updated: 9:14 PM Jul 7, 2010

Cape Lookout Lighthouse Opening!

Senator Kay Hagan was on hand to climb to the top Wednesday and played a major role in getting a half million dollars for its critical rehabilitation.

Posted: 9:01 PM Jul 7, 2010

Cape Lookout Lighthouse Opening!

Like

One person likes this.

A lighthouse that has greeted visitors to the coast for more than 150 years is reopening to the public.

The Cape Lookout Lighthouse will soon climb to the top of some tourist's lists.

The lighthouse, although operational, has been closed for public tours since 2008 due to structural and safety concerns.

Senator Kay Hagan was on hand to climb to the top Wednesday and played a major role in getting a half million dollars for its critical rehabilitation.

Public tours will resume July 15th. Tickets for adults are just 8 dollars and 4 dollars for children.

Find this article at:

<http://www.witn.com/news/headlines/97988914.html?ref=914>

Check the box to include the list of links referenced in the article.

Copyright © 2002-2008 - Gray Television Group, Inc.